EDMONTON BULLETIN, MARCH 20TH, 1896

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The advent in Winnipeg of the commissioners from the federal to the Manitoba government marks an important stage in the history of the school question. It denotes—if it denotes anything—a change of attitude on the part of the Dominion government. The point of division between the stand of the local and the federal governments has hitherto been as to whether or not there should be separate schools—that is as to whether or not the Roman Catholics when in a minority in any locality should have the right to set up a separate school, which would be on the same footing as to state aid as the public school, but should be under the control of the authorities of the Roman Catholic church. This is the point that Manitoba has persistently refused to concede and is the question that was submitted to the people of the province at the late election, upon which they expressed such a decided opinion. The election having been held so recently, and the majority against separate schools being so large it would be folly to expect that—whatever concessions the local government might make—they would make the concessions imperatively demanded by the terms of the remedial order and embodied so far as a form of words goes in the remedial bill. This being the case a settlement can only be expected if the federal government is prepared to accept something very much less than is contained in the announcements of their policy that have been made up to date. The expressions of the editor of the Northwest Review, which appear elsewhere, show that this idea prevails in the minds of those who are best informed and most interested in the matter in Manitoba. That in fact after all the loud professions that have been made of friendship for the Catholics and a determination to support their rights, the Tupper faction are as ready to betray them now as they were to betray the premier a couple of months ago. If Mr. Greenway's government had asked for a conference it might have been supposed that he would be willing to make concessions of principle, but when the Dominion government asks for the conference and sends its delegates to Winnipeg—especially after the issue of the remedial order and the passage of the second reading of the bill—it is a clear indication of their willingness to make concessions of principle. That some underhand work is intended, is evident from the mysterious missions of Sir Donald Smith, and the unheard of method of the appointment of the present commission. A government commission for which the government is not responsible, can only mean the contemplation of a report by the commission for which the government dare not assume responsibility—or in other words, a report that it is necessary to withdraw from the present position of humbug towards one part of the community and of coercion towards the other.

There is a logical ground of complaint against the Manitoba school law by the Roman Catholics of the province, in that religious teaching is allowed in the public schools. This teaching being uniform in all schools is necessarily Protestant teaching. This may be denied, but it is not the less a fact. It was a provision inserted in the school law on the demand of many of the clergy of the Protestant majority, against the express desire of the promoter of the law and contrary to the intent of the provisions as drafted. If the Protestant majority had been satisfied to accept schools without any religious teaching, the minority would have had no logical ground of complaint, but when they insisted on Protestant teaching in schools in Protestant communities, they cannot, according to the principles of true Protestantism, deny the privilege of Roman Catholic religious teaching in Roman Catholic communities. That Manitoba is willing to grant this, there is no doubt, for it was charged against the government at the beginning of the present session of the local legislature—charged, remember, by the leader of the opposition the representative of a Catholic constituency—that the government was actually and knowingly permitting this to be done, and still paying such schools their usual grants. Of course a concession such as this would not satisfy everyone, but now that the so-called remedial bill is before the country it is for the minority interested to judge if they would not be better off educationally under the present system with that modification, than under the so-called remedial law, if it should be passed—which at present does not seem likely. The BULLETIN ventures to guess that this is the solution of the problem in the mind of Sir Donald Smith, and which the commission has gone to Winnipeg to attempt to arrange. The remedial law bubble has been pricked, and the government dare not face the coming elections on the policy which a year ago was launched for the express and only purpose of carrying the then expected elections.

GENERAL NEWS.

Mr. Daly has promised Mr. Davin that the government will bring in a bill to amend the northwest election act in order to do away with the complaint that electors can be disfranchised under the existing law. In the vote on the second reading of the remedial bill Ontario went against it by a majority of 17, and Prince Edward Island by four to two. Quebec endorsed it by a majority of three. New Brunswick by 10. Nova Scotia by 11. Manitoba by four to 1 and the Northwest and British Columbia were unanimous in its favor.

The Montreal correspondent of the Toronto Week has the following: "A striking illustration of the temper of the French liberals was afforded by an incident at a political dinner given a day or so ago by the Club National in honor of F. G. M. Dechenne, M. P. P. Mr. Beausoleil was one of the speakers, and while protesting his devotion to Mr. Laurier, defended his action on the school question. He spoke to a grim and silent audience, which a moment later became warmly enthusiastic when Mr. Geoffroy, M. P., proceeded to give his reasons for opposing the measure. I again repeat what I have said more than once in this column, that Mr. Laurier's personality shines as a bright star above every other issue, and that the conservatives must match him with Chapeau if they are to hold their own here, let alone making gain. Those who imagine that his attitude in the House will cost him dear in French votes will be mistaken. If the Church were to declare war against him, he would suffer, of course; but it appears now that this danger has about blown over."

J. K. Barrett, editor of the North West Review the Catholic organ in Winnipeg says: "We are not opposed to the conference as a conference but we are opposed to anything which will delay the passing of the bill. The church could not oppose the conference in itself, but judging from the lack of success in the past of such meetings, it seems doubtful if any good can come of it. All the church can require is that separate schools be restored. We must have our own schools, our own teachers, and under our own control, that is, under our control to the same extent that the public schools are under the control of the people of the province. If this can be gained by a conference, so much the better, because I believe it will be better to have them restored by the province than by the Dominion; that is, we would work more harmoniously with the local government in the former case. But anything which would give us less than the restoration of separate schools cannot be accepted by the minority—could not possibly be accepted. We will accept actions, but not promises from Mr. Greenway. Mr. Greenway's promises are like pie-crust, made to be broken. We don't believe Mr. Greenway intends to do anything. We know that by the judgment of the privy council our separate schools ought to be restored to us, and we also know that the Greenway government have said again and again that they will not restore separate schools, privy council decision, or no decision, and it is hard to see the use of holding a conference under these circumstances."

"Two things make us look on this conference as useless."

"1. The past history of the government's treatment of the Roman Catholic minority."

"2. The repeated and reiterated official pronouncement that they will not restore separate schools."

March 10. Trustees of Creeksford school were in Edmonton to-day to sell debentures.

SPRING CREEK SETTLEMENT.

Mr. Tims and Mr. Marriaggi held a meeting in Deep Creek school house on Friday night last respecting provincial autonomy. A great many of the settlers were present and listened with interest to the speakers. The majority of those present signed the petition in favor of the scheme. Mr. Burns in the chair.

Mr. Burns has been busy collecting school tax.

The settlers here are making preparations to do a considerable amount of seeding this spring.

The Moravian settlers have nearly all their logs on the ground and are now very busy whip sawing and heaving them.

March 23rd, '96.

LACOMBE LINKS.

Mr. Thacker, of Gull Lake, had a valuable cow poisoned by eating the stomachs of some coyotes that had been poisoned with strychnine.

A meeting was held in the station-house on Friday evening last by Mr. Smith, of the Calgary creamery, which resulted in the promise of enough cows to have a skimming station here. The building, on Nanton street, occupied by Darke Bros. as a carpenter shop, has been rented for that purpose and the contract let to put up ice.

Lawyer Bangs, of Calgary, was in town last week on business.

The Methodists had a bee last week and put up a frame barn on the parsonage lot.

Mr. Fincham is having his house painted, and E. E. Matthias is painting Mr. Vanalstein's store.

A Mr. Johnston with his wife and family arrived from Washington on Monday's train and is stopping at Mr. Thompson's boarding house. He wants to rent an improved farm near town.

There was a surprise party at the Rev. John Fernie's on the 23rd inst., at which about sixty persons were present to celebrate the birthday of his youngest daughter, Miss Queenie. An enjoyable evening was spent.

A Driggs has gone to Michigan on business, and may be gone some months, and although the family are living on the place we are informed that there has been a quantity of seed grain stolen off the premises, which grain he had just bought for spring use.

A Mr. Walters arrived from Winnipeg last week with his family and has located in Pleasant Valley.

A public meeting was held in Mr. Schmuck's office last evening to see about what could be done towards incorporating the town so that funds can be raised to put down sidewalks, etc., which are badly needed. Messrs. H. J. Richardson, M. D., G. A. Reid and D. G. Stewart were appointed a committee to enquire further into the matter and report next Saturday evening.

Mrs. McNeil has opened a laundry in town and is prepared to do work on the shortest notice.

MARRIED—On March 8th, at the residence of Mr. H. Kolterman, by the Rev. E. J. Chegwinn, George Lemon, of Lacombe, to Miss Mary Hyde, of Leeds, England.

March 26th, 1896.

The Toronto World persists in its contention that the bill remedial will never become law; that those Ontario men who have supported the measure in Parliament against their convictions can never be re-elected, and that a public sentiment against the coercion of Manitoba is now rising all over the country which will be the dominant force in the elections to be held at an early day.

THE PETROLEUM BORING.

The report of Dr. Dawson, director of the geological survey of Canada on the oil boring operations at the Landing says the well is now down 1731 feet. The strata passed through so far indicate that the top of the tar sands should be reached at about 1800 feet, which is somewhat deeper than expected. It is intended to push the boring to 2,000 feet if possible, which it is calculated would take it through the sands. If no further success is achieved in the present well it is intended to move the outfit down the Athabasca to Pelican river where it is expected that the tar sands would be struck at a depth of about 700 feet. "If on the other hand any petroleum should be encountered in the present well, the importance of tracing its existence as far southward as possible, points to the advisability of making a second test somewhere in the North Saskatchewan valley. Should it however, prove possible to do so, I would strongly advocate the simultaneous sinking of experimental borings at both these places, thereby effecting the saving of a year in the process of testing the great northern field. As to the skill and diligence with which the work has been prosecuted. Prof. Dawson says: "The work of sinking this experimental well has been attended with unlooked for difficulties and delay, in consequence of the unconsolidated character and the great thickness of cretaceous shales which has had to be passed through, and the time consumed in communicating with, and meeting the requirements of the work, in a locality situated nearly one hundred miles beyond communication by railway or telegraph. Mr. W. A. Fraser has spared no effort in advancing the progress of the boring, and is entitled to much credit for the manner in which he has been able to overcome the various obstacles met with." Gas, of which several veins had already been struck, was again struck at 1035 feet. Salt-water was struck at 1090. A little gas was again struck at 1035 feet. Mr. Fraser's report is given in detail.

An active campaign in favor of the British Pacific railway is being carried on in British Columbia. An Ottawa despatch of March 24th, says: A bill is to be introduced by the government to increase the salary of the commissioner of customs and also the commissioner of inland revenue to $4,000 per year. Kilvert has been here until the salary was increased and his job was wanted for McKay. The Citizen to-day says McKay is to get it and it also says that W. Patterson, of Colchester, Nova Scotia, is to be made postmaster. McKay voted for the coercion bill, so did Patterson. Besides these Taylor, the Tory whip, is to be made superintendent of the Rideau canal; Boyle, collector of customs at Niagara; Metcalfe, warden of the Kingston penitentiary; Moncrieff, a judge; Costantini, a judge; Masson, a judge, etc. All these voted for the coercion of Manitoba.

Monday's train brought 25 settlers north and the two trains of the previous week brought 52 settlers.

DAIRY MEETING.

The dairy convention meeting held in the council chamber on Thursday evening, by the representatives of the Northwest dairy-men's association was very poorly attended. The chair was taken by M. McCauley. The first speaker was

E. N. Hopkins, of Moose Jaw, president of the Northwest dairy-men's association, who read a very interesting and able paper on the possibilities and advantages of dairying; in the course of which he pointed out the great financial success of dairying in Ontario, where land is dear, and the proportionate better opportunities in the Northwest where pasture is unlimited and free, while our long freight rates do not tell against a concentrated product such as butter as they do against wheat. We must look to the British market, and in that market there was no danger of the over production of a good article. But we must manufacture to suit the British taste—which was not the same as ours—in order to get the top price. The better the price obtained abroad the better would be the price at home, for it is the price of the exported surplus which regulates the price of the whole product. The Moose Jaw creamery had been operated by the Dominion government last year under the management of Prof. Robertson, as an object lesson in creameries, and had been very successful and satisfactory. Butter made in June had sold in London in December at within a cent a pound of the best Danish.

John Hawkes, of Whitefoot, secretary of the association, then addressed a meeting at some length, showing that the draw backs to the dairy industry in the Territories were lack of capital amongst the farmers and the necessity of uniformity of make and direct business connections in the English market. He then read a proposition originated by W. Watson, of Moose Jaw, for the establishment of the creamery business in the Northwest as a Northwest government enterprise. The government to appropriate $30,000 for the purpose, and build ten creameries alike in plan and site in different parts of the Territories. One hundred farmers guaranteeing the milk of five hundred cows and putting up $500 in cash to form a company in each locality. The government to put $2,000 out of the bulk sum with the $500 supplied by the farmers to build and operate the creamery. Government to inspect the creamery and have power to dismiss the butter maker for cause. The sale of the product to be controlled by Prof. Robertson. Ten thousand dollars of the proposed fund to be used in assisting existing creameries.

Frank Oliver, M. L. A., was called upon to give an opinion as to the probability of the Northwest assembly on this proposition. He said that he could not answer for the Northwest executive, or other members of the assembly. For himself he agreed with the principle of giving financial aid to creameries, as to other industrial enterprises where there is a reasonable probability of the public being substantially benefited thereby. But he was distinctly opposed to the principle of government management of creameries, or any other business, whose success depended on the closest attention and the greatest business energy, such as could only be secured when they were managed by private persons for their own profit. He moved seconded by H. Goodridge that this meeting endorse the principle of government aid to creameries.

Messrs. R. L. Alexander, M. McCauley, G. E. Grogan and Messrs. Hopkins and Hawkes then took part in the discussion, which was carried on until a late hour. Mr. Grogan moved seconded by Mr. Lee that the meeting endorse the scheme proposed by the delegates. This was carried by a vote of five out of the audience of nine remaining.

M. McCauley was elected representative of Edmonton in the Northwest dairy association and the meeting was closed with votes of thanks to the delegates.

Edmonton, March 26, 1896.

To the public is general.

I wish to say that I heard certain parties in town state that Mr. Haworth had no diploma, which statement I repeated, but did not claim to anyone that I was sure about it, as I did not know until I saw the catalogue yesterday morning, which shows that Mr. Haworth has a diploma. I am sorry that any such report was circulated. But it did not originate with me. Hoping this will do for an apology.
